Disclaimers:

All performance data, including speeds, fuel consumption and range, are estimated at half-load at the time of testing and cannot be guaranteed. Actual performance may vary. Boat performance may be impacted by many factors including, but not limited to, loaded displacement, boat configuration and options, trim, sea conditions, climate, hull bottom, surface condition and mechanical systems condition.

Specifications are subject to change without notice, except where this document is already part of a mutually signed purchase agreement between Buyer and Zeelander, in which case Zeelander reserves the right to change these specifications with Buyer's prior written consent.
